

These Rules for application of ACERT Bureau certificate and Conformity mark (hereafter – Rules) define the requirements for application as well as the requirements for form and dimensions of ACERT Bureau Conformity mark.

When using ACERT Bureau certificate an organization should follow the following rules:

- The certificate can be used only in its entirety with the preservation of its contents and design of all the components used. The use of mark of the German accreditation body DAkkS is not allowed separately from the certificate. Changing the size of the certificate is only permitted while maintaining the proportions of all its elements.
- If the certificate has an Appendixes, then use them separately from the certificate is not allowed.
- Issued ACERT Bureau certificate does not preserve all the components in the prose of black-and-white copying. Upon the request of the organization ACERT Bureau can make additional copies of the Certificate with appropriate costs.

As certified organization You have a right to use ACERT Bureau Conformity mark.

When using ACERT Bureau conformity mark an organization should follow the following rules:

Organization certified by ACERT Bureau gains the right to use the conformity mark for advertising purposes. The right to use the conformity mark is transferred to the Organization within the surveillance of certified management system. Using of Conformity mark is applied only for activities and locations of Organization which are identified during certification.

ACERT Bureau systematically controls the adherence to the rules of using the conformity mark during surveillance of the Organization's certified management system. ACERT Bureau informs the Organization about all changes in the rules of using the conformity mark and terms of its taking force.

In case that evidence of non-conformity in using the conformity mark is gained, ACERT Bureau may carry out the following corrective actions in order to protect its reputation:

- suspend Certificate of conformity/rights to use conformity mark;
- assign an additional audit of the Organization's management system;
- withdraw the Certificate of conformity/the right to use conformity mark;
- undertake actions in accordance with the present legislation (e.g. bring an action against Organization).

In case of suspension of the Certificate of conformity's validity, the Organization loses the right to use the conformity mark. In such cases Organization has the right to use materials and documentation with the conformity mark during one month from the moment of decision taken to suspend the validity period of the Certificate of conformity.

The right to use the conformity mark automatically suspends on expiry of the validity period of the Certificate of conformity or its withdrawal.

❶ Where can the Conformity mark be applied?

The Conformity mark means the certification against ISO 9001:2008 can be applied to the advertising documentation of Your organization: brochures, booklets, letterheads, etc.

Use of the mark shall not lead to multiple-meaning understanding or interpretation of the type of certification. For example, use of the mark on the products is unacceptable, since it can be perceived as product certification and not as quality management system certification.

Application of the management system conformity mark in products, samples, Organization's laboratory test, calibration records and reports, inspection reports or certificates is forbidden.
